

AMIA 2008

NOVEMBER 12-15 - SAVANNAH, GA

The Association of Moving Image Archivists is a professional association established to advance the field of moving image archiving by fostering cooperation among individuals and organizations concerned with the collection, description, preservation, exhibition and use of moving image materials.

What is the AMIA Conference?

The AMIA Annual Conference provides an invaluable opportunity for all those involved in the preservation and care of moving images to meet colleagues, share information and learn about the latest developments. Hundreds of individuals worldwide from archives, production libraries, television networks, major studios and laboratories attend an ambitious schedule of panels, presentations, sessions, workshops and technical symposia that cover a wide range of issues. In addition, AMIA's volunteer committees and interest groups meet to discuss a variety of ongoing AMIA projects and programs.

In addition to three full days of concurrent and plenary sessions, conference events include workshops, advanced technical symposia, tours of local facilities, an AMIA Awards ceremony (featuring the presentation of the Silver Light career recognition award and the AMIA Scholarships and Fellowship), and the annual "AMIA Archival Screening Night," featuring archival clips of all kinds recently-acquired or newly-restored by a broad range of institutions, shown wherever possible in the original format. AMIA's annual conference is open to all, regardless of membership in AMIA.

Who Attends the AMIA Annual Conference?

The annual AMIA Conference is the largest gathering of motion picture and recorded sound archivists and interested professionals. 500-700 annual attendees include members and colleagues from the world's major media institutions, including the Library of Congress, the Academy of Motion Picture Arts & Sciences (AMPAS), the British Film Institute, Netherlands Filmmuseum, UCLA Film and Television Archive and George Eastman House, the major studios - Sony Pictures, Twentieth Century Fox, Universal Pictures, Paramount Pictures, Warner Bros. - as well as library, university, military and other institutions.

AMIA's Annual Conference offers a forum for all areas of the field to come together. In addition to archival institutions, attendees include laboratories, providers of digital asset management systems, storage solutions and other colleagues in the field. The wide range of delegates provides a unique forum for an annual discussion of the field, changing technologies and future directions.

Why Exhibit at the AMIA Annual Conference?

AMIA brings together the largest gathering of moving image archivists in North America. Maximize exposure of your products and services to the people who buy and use them - qualified buyers representing organizations and archives worldwide. It's a great location - a great program - and everyone is looking forward to Savannah!

The 2008 Vendor Cafe exhibit is scheduled for two days this year - Thursday, November 13 and Friday, November 14. We will be providing coffee in the Cafe and encouraging people to plan to use the Cafe as a meeting place throughout the day.

We'll highlight each vendor on the website leading up to the Conference, with your logo, a description of your products and services, as well as contact information. That information remains on the website beyond the Conference.

If you are interested in a vendor exhibit at the AMIA Annual Conference sponsorship, please contact - Kristina Kersels, Events and Operations Manager; Tel: 323.463.1500; Email kkersels@amianet.org.
